PEACEFUL REST.

Funeral Ceremony Over the Remains Of

CHARLES STEWART PARNELL.

No Disturbance Occurs to Mar the Solemnity of the Occasion—Thousands of People View the Remains While Lying in State in the Dublin Council Chamber.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—The remains of Parnell arrived at Kingston at 7 a. m. yesterday. There was no demonstration along the line from London until Chester was reached, when deputations from Liverpool, Manchester, Preston and Newcastle, all destined for Dublin, joined the train. The parliamentary colleagues of Mr. Parnell were among the people that greeted the deputations on their arrival at Holyhead, where the train arrived at 3 o'clock in the morning, in wet and hazy weather.

Groups were collected on the quay to watch the transfer of the coffin from the train to the mail boat Ireland. The case was borne on the shoulders of seamen to the side of the vessel and down the double gangway into the ship. The coffin was deposited in an enclosure specially fitted up for it. Throughout the voyage some of the Parnellites were all the time on guard over the remains of their beloved leader. Among the watchers was the lord mayor of Dublin, High Sheriff Meade and J. H. Parnell, brother of the departed.

The boat made the passage in a gale of wind and rain. At the Kingston pier a multitude was gathered to receive the remains. With the Irish members who had followed the body from England, the group at Kingston included nearly every parliamentary adherent of Parnell. They all gathered around the coffin in absolute silence, unbroken even by the exchange of friendly greetings, until after the remains had been transferred to the carriage of the train for Dublin.

The Westland Row station in Dublin was reached at 7:30 a. m. A vast silent crowd awaited with uncovered heads, as the train steamed into the station. Conspicuous in front of the dense masses of people were members of the Gaelic and Athletic societies, with their hurlers in their sports draped black and tied with green ribbon. The representatives of branches of the National league wore black badges, on which were the dying words of Parnell: "Give my love to my colleagues and the Irish nation."

When the remains had been removed from the train the coffin was taken from the case that enveloped it and lifted into the hearse, the glass panels of which permitted a full exposure of the coffin to public view. The wreaths and other floral tributes covered the top of the hearse and were heaped about the coffin. The case in which the coffin had been enclosed on the way to Dublin was laid aside. The crowd immediately seized upon and broke it into small pieces to carry away as mementoes of the dead.

When the hearse moved from the station a body of police before the procession which, without any design or marshalling, appeared to fall into an orderly line in purely extemporized fashion. A band and the workmen's union followed next after the police, the band playing the "Dead March in Saul." Then came the Gaelic and athletic societies with their hurlers reversed, after the manner of soldiers carrying reversed arms. As the march progressed the crowds grew denser and yet they kept clear of the line of the procession, along the whole route to Castle Hill, where the serried ranks of the people occupied every inch of space.

The city hall of Dublin was reached at 8:30 a. m. The front of the hall was covered with sombre draperies, and a dense rain streamed down as the coffin was borne into the hall toward the catafalque. The rain kept pouring in pitiless torrents for hour after hour, but it did not diminish the vast concourse that thronged toward the hall, ignoring the elements in their anxiety to show their esteem for their beloved leader. It was an assemblage of remarkable serenity. Reverential quiet pervaded the crowd, unbroken by partisan cries, or the remotest symptom of tendency to disorder.

At 10 o'clock the gates were opened, and the people poured into the interior. The body lay in state in the council chamber, a large circular room, now heavily draped in black, relieved by scrolls of white satin in looped festoons, bearing in black letters the last words of Parnell. The coffin, which rested on a raised dais in the center of the chamber, was buried under masses of wreaths, floral crosses, Irish harps and other floral designs.

Conspicuous on the coffin were three wreaths from Mrs. Parnell, a cross and anchor and circle, with inscriptions. The outer inscription was "My own true love; my best, truest friend; my husband from his heart-broken wife," and the innermost inscription, "My dear love, my husband, my king, from his heart-broken wife." There were also two beautiful little wreaths from Mrs. Parnell's daughters with the words: "From little Clare to my dear mother's husband," and "From little Kitty to my dear mother's husband."

From 10 o'clock until 2 a continuous stream of people poured into the city hall. It is estimated that the people who paid their last tribute of respect to the dead leader numbered at least 40,000. Nearly all were in the deepest mourning, the men wearing a band of black crepe interwoven with green ribbon on the arm, and a large proportion of the women also wearing a similar sign of grief. The ceremony of lying in state was intended to close at noon, but the crowd continued so numerous that it was after 2 o'clock when the doors were shut.

At 2:45 the funeral cortege started for the grave in Glasnevin cemetery. It was led by the executive of the Parnell leadership committee and following came the bier drawn by six black horses. Surrounding the bier were the parliamentary colleagues of Parnell. Parnell's favorite horse followed the bier. Then came a strong body of Gaels, headed by James Stephens, the famous Fenian organizer; John O'Leary, the well known advocate of an Irish republic, and other prominent features of the profession were John O'Connor, member of parliament, leading by the arm the blind member, Mr. W. A. MacDonald, of Ossory; Parnell's brother and sister, and then the lord mayor of Dublin, in official state, preceded by the city marshal, and sword and lance bearers. Next came the representatives of the corporations of the principal Irish towns, and the various trade societies, then the Foresters, the Home Rulers and a line of private carriages.

As the procession started the rain ceased and the sun came out. The procession wended its way to the cemetery. Perfect order prevailed, although the vast line of mourners surpassed in numbers any spectacle ever seen in Dublin. No systematic plan seemed to regulate the multitude, yet some fine instinct of reverential order prevailed everywhere and gave the march an aspect of drilled regularity.

At the cemetery crowds had all day been inspecting the turf-lined tomb, guarded by a small group of police. When the first part of the procession reached the lower gate of the cemetery at 5 o'clock, it was found impossible to penetrate the dense masses assembled there and after a struggle the police had to abandon the effort to make a way through the crowd and the hearse was conducted to the upper gate. The coffin was removed and placed on a platform, especially constructed in such a way that the procession could file around it and have a view of the bier.

At 6 o'clock, when dusk was fast falling on the scene, the procession was still filing around the bier; so orders were given to remove the coffin to the side of the grave. A body of Gaels cleared the way to the grave, and formed a circle within which the Lord Mayor and civic dignitaries, and Parnell's colleagues and relatives stationed themselves. The Rev. Mr. Vincent, of the Rotunda chapel, the Rev. George Fry, the Irish Protestant clergyman, from Manchester, England, were the officiating clergymen. It was 7 o'clock when the mourners started to return to the city.

Condition of Mrs. Parnell.

LONDON, Oct. 12.—Advices from Brighton say that Mrs. Parnell's condition is pitiable, and grows worse instead of improving. Immediately after Parnell's death she was in better condition than now; for although she fainted, she recovered sufficiently to have some communication with friends, and, through their medium with the outside world. She has been growing worse every day, until now she only moans in reply to questions, and is unable or refuses to speak. The doctors who are in attendance greatly fear that her condition may grow more critical, and are doing every thing possible to restore her, but apparently without effect. The only intelligible sounds that she has uttered in hours have been plaintive cries for her husband.

THEATER BURNED.

Generous Treatment by the Citizens of Owensboro, Kentucky.

OWENSBORO, Ky., Oct. 12.—The new Temple theater, in this city, was destroyed by fire at 1:30 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The Greenwood Opera company was preparing for a matinee performance when the fire started on the stage. In a few minutes the entire building was burned. The house was new, and cost $38,000. It was insured for $10,000.

The Greenwood Opera company lost everything, including their hotel baggage. Their loss is placed at $10,000, with no insurance.

Immediately after the fire the M. V. Monarch company, distillers of this city, sent the company a check for $350, and the citizens got up a benefit concert, which had an immense attendance.

EXTREME DESTITUTION.

Thirty-Two Million Peasants in Want in Russia.

ST. PETERSBURG, Oct. 12.—Senator Baranoff estimates that no fewer than 32,000,000 of peasants in Russia are now destitute and must be provided for for the next ten months. It will require 320,000,000 pounds of grain to feed them.

The American church in this city has started a subscription list to relieve this mountain of misery. Prince Korsakoff, the head of a great family, lives on koozort bread as an example for his servants and others to follow during the national affliction.

Owing to the difficulty of obtaining fodder for cattle the export of linseed cake from Russia has been prohibited.

Wanted by Numerous Creditors.

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 12.—Charles Crane, a well known young man about town, has suddenly disappeared, leaving many creditors who claim to hold unsettled accounts, while his room-mate asserts that Crane helped himself to his wardrobe. Crane recently organized a collection agency here, which was not a success, as he was the only stockholder. He recently figured in a prize fight caused by jealousy, and was declared the winner. A young lady to whom he was paying attention was sent by her parents to Ravenna, and it is understood he is in that vicinity.

GALESBURG, Ills., Oct. 12.—Late Saturday night, the trainmen's convention took a vote on the Northwestern trouble and acquitted, by a vote of 302 to 14, the grand officers of blame, and condemned the action of the supreme council in expelling the brotherhood. The grand officers are jubilant over so sweeping a manifestation of approval.

HUNDREDS OF HUNGRY PEOPLE.

Great Distitution Among the Lower Classes of Mexicans.

SAN ANTONIO, TEX., Oct. 12.—Mr. D. P. Newcomer, United states immigrant inspector, has just returned from a visit to Piedras Negras, Mexico. He states that he heard many distressing stories concerning the condition of affairs in the northern part of Mexico. That there is great destitution among the lower classes of Mexicans in the state of Chihuahua and Durango, there can be no doubt.

There are about 4,000 people, seeking employment, on the railroad, extension between Tarreon and Durango. These men and their families are half starved and in utter want. The contractors and construction bosses have hard work in standing off the hungry horde. There are hundreds of the unfortunates who subsist entirely on the Magway plant. The drought, however, has been broken and there are indications of better times.

ATTEMPTED ARSON.

A Mystery for the Indianapolis Police to Solve.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 12.—The Indianapolis police are investigating a bold case of arson. Some two months ago a young man named Gibbons came here from Hamilton, O., rented a frame building on Massachusetts avenue, and used it for storing canned goods. Friday evening Gibbons was seen to enter the building, and a few minutes later flames burst forth from under the stairway, where a bundle of shavings and pine had been ignited.

Charles W. Nickum, whose place of business is next door, called loudly to Gibbons to warn him of his danger, but when the fire had been extinguished it was found that the back door was open, and Gibbons is supposed to have made his escape that way. The officers have been in search of Gibbons ever since and can find no trace of him.

Caught in a Freight Car.

ANDERSON, Ind., Oct. 12.—Conductor William Kane, who runs on the Big Four, bagged a freight thief in a very effective and novel manner. As his train was about to leave Brightwood he saw a man break the seal on a car, push the door open and climb in. Conductor Kane went to the car, closed the door, locked it and nailed it shut. He then telegraphed to this city to have a police officer at the station, and as the train pulled in a little after midnight they opened the cage and took out their "bird" after slipping a pair of "nippers" on him. The fellow gave his name as Charles Noble, and his home at 810 West Washington street, Indianapolis. The car was loaded with valuable freight, consigned to Anderson and Muncie merchants.

Gigantic Coal Deal.

SANTE FE, N. M., Oct. 12.—R. C. Kerens, of St. Louis; S. B. Elkins, of West Virginia, and several millionaire coal barons who control the coal properties of Missoniri, Kansas and Texas, have secured control of the Cerrillos Coal and Iron company. F. W. Risque of St. Louis has been appointed superintendent of the property. The property consists of 30,000 acres of land twenty miles south of here. The deal is expected to have a direct bearing on the extension of the Denver and Rio Grande railroad through Santa Fe to Cerrillos and on to Albuquerque and then El Paso.

Of Interest to Sculptors.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 12.—The soldiers' monument commission has completed the code of rules which are to govern in the sculptural competition for the great side group "War" and "Peace." Models are to be required in every instance, and are to be submitted by July 6, 1892. In order to increase competition from men of renown, the commission has invited five sculptors of note to submit designs and to each will be paid $500 as compensation for his work. The design selected for the monument will be awarded a premium of $1,000 and the "second best" will receive $500.

Physicians Puzzled.

MOORE'S HILL, Ind., Oct. 12.—Mr. James Stevens, one of the trustees of Moore's Hill college, is suffering from the most puzzling affliction. He has been in declining health for many months, but the peculiarity in his case is that during the last three months his heart has registered only twenty-eight beats per minute, while his temperature stands at 90 degrees. Physicians say the case is unparalleled. It is attributed to a steady heart failure.

His Dead Body Found.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Oct. 12.—In June last, Alexander Dutton disappeared from the southwestern part of Morgan county, and when last seen was in the company of a man named Castleberry. Yesterday Dutton's remains were found in a cedar glade near Mount Nebo church. A bullet hole was found in his skull. Castleberry has left the country. The crime is being investigated.

Ravages of Diphtheria.

ANDERSON, Ind., Oct. 12.—Deadly diphtheria is prevailing to an alarming extent in this city. A number of deaths have occurred within the past few days, and there are quite a number of dangerous cases under treatment. Extra precautions are being taken to keep it out of the schools.

Result of a Drunken Quarrel.

CHAMPAIGN, Ills., Oct. 12.—In a drunken quarrel here last night between Royal Voorhees, Robert Creque and a young man named Renner, Voorhees was shot and instantly killed and Creque seriously wounded. Renner has been arrested.

Fireman Instantly Killed.

DENVER, Oct. 12.—Sunday morning, while going to a small fire in the suburbs, Horace Knight, a pipeman of steamer No. 5, was thrown from his wagon and instantly killed. He was about thirty-five years old and unmarried.

EVENING BULLETIN.

DAILY, EXCEPT SUNDAY.

ROSSER & MCCARTHY,
Proprietors.

MONDAY, OCTOBER 12, 1891.

Decorate the city from one end to the other, and let us appear in our brightest colors this week.

The New York Recorder, which first published the lies about Governor Campbell's financial standing which the Commercial Gazette reproduced, fully retracts and confesses it was meanly imposed on. Governor Campbell never fails to make his traducers toe the mark.

The trolley system of electric roads will likely soon be a thing of the past, if the reports from the great and only Edison are correct. It is said he has about perfected a system of furnishing electric car motors with a current from the rails. The saying that "there is nothing new under the sun" doesn't apply to electricity as manipulated by Edison.

Some papers are already gossiping about the personnel of Kentucky's delegation to the next National Republican convention. They think the Ninth district's delegation will be selected from this list: Judge Thomas, Marshal D. J. Burchett and Captain Lewis Lebus.

The colored brothers say they will have one place on the State delegation or know the reason why. They will not be satisfied with the position of alternate. They claim they have been playing second fiddle long enough.

The Portsmouth Blade is informed that the quail season in Kentucky does not begin until Oct. 20th. If any Portsmouth hunters are shooting quail on Kentucky soil they are violating the law.

Mr. W. J. Chancellor, one of Shannon's most excellent citizens, wedded Miss Grace Smith of Baltimore last week. They were married Wednesday evening at Emanuel Church, and left next day for New York and Niagara Falls. They are expected home next Thursday.

Says the Paris Kentuckian: "The Power Wholesale Grocery Company held a meeting Thursday night and elected the following Directors:—G. C. Lockhart, George Alexander, W. H. Hinton, Frank Armstrong, H. A. Power. President—G. C. Lockhart. Treasurer—George Alexander. Secretary and Manager—H. A. Power."

SAN FRANCISCO, October 6, 1891.—Seals are now being killed by the hundreds. One schooner brought into port yesterday over fifteen hundred skins. Every indication of extreme cold weather, the fur being finer than seen for years. The finely finished coal vases, are neater in style and greater in variety, lower in price, at Frank Owens Hard Hardware Company's than for years. Call and see before purchasing elsewhere. dtt

Dr. Willits will deliver his popular lecture on "Sunshine" at the High School, October 13th, at 8 p. m. An exchange says: "The Doctor gave the bright, cheerful and sunny phase of human nature, and interspersed his wonderful word-painting by illustrations of the peevish, fretful and morose genius that brought down the house. The lecture is correctly named. It is sunshine, sunshine all over it—teaching gratitude for the past, content with the present and trust (hope) for the future."

A Tobacco Premium.

Premium of $10 for best sample six hands bright leaf tobacco. Award to be made December 16th, 1891.

DULEY & BALDWIN.

A Narrow Escape.

A wreck on the Kentucky Central was narrowly averted Friday. Some section hands were at work on the hill opposite Brodt's, and had most of the spikes drawn from three rails. Their hand-car was on the track just beyond them. Suddenly a special freight train came round the curve. It was impossible to stop in the short distance. The hand-car was smashed to pieces, but fortunately the train passed safely over the rails where the spikes had been drawn. Had it jumped the track it would have landed in the pike below.

For the Farmer.

J. E. Molloy, of Germantown, has sold his fine Burdine harness stallion to John Bradley, of Fairfield, Ill., for a handsome price.

At Lancaster, Pa., tobacco buyers are in the field in large numbers, and numerous sales are being made at from 20 to 30 cents, and even higher figures are being given for exceptionally fine crops.

KENTUCKY ODDFELLOWS.

Their Grand Lodge Will Meet Here To-morrow—Statistics Reported at the Last Session.

This will be Oddfellows' week in Maysville, and the city is donning her Sunday clothes in honor of the visitors who are here and who will be here.
The Grand Lodge of Kentucky will convene to-morrow at 9 a. m. at Oddfellows' Hall, in annual session, and the meeting will continue several days.
Grand Master Wm. G. Duncan arrived last evening from his home in Ohio County, and with him came twenty-two other members of the order, most of them from Louisville. They are: J. B. Rock and wife, Gus Manhardt and wife, Geo. L. Smith and wife, Will H. Graham and wife, Mrs. Nannie H. Ross, Miss Tillie McHugh, O. S. Kline, J. F. Mitchell, Sam Ranzel, J. C. Kelley and daughter, John Miller, Oliver C. Roll and N. Steinberg, all of Louisville; George Zeller and George H. Hartman and wife, of Henderson, and T. D. Walker, of Earlinton. The Grand Master and his wife are guests of Past Grand Master Wm. H. Cox, and the rest are at the Central.
This is only the advance guard, as three or four hundred representatives are expected from the various lodges of the State.
The decorations will be on a grand scale. The people are busy hanging out flags, bunting and festoonings, and Maysville will be "dyked" out in gay colors before the close of the day. Let every body decorate.
The grand parade will take place Thursday, and that will be the big day. Dinner will be served at Masonic Temple for all who take part in the parade, and there will be a reception at Oddfellows' Hall that night.
Following are the present officers of the Grand Lodge:
Grand Master—W. G. Duncan, McHenry, Ohio County.
Deputy Grand Master—W. G. Simpson, New Liberty, Owen County.
Grand Warden—B. B. Wilson, of Lexington.
Grand Secretary—William White, of Louisville.
Grand Treasurer—George W. Morris, of Louisville.
Grand Marshal—T. D. Reddick.
Grand Conductor—H. C. Metcalf.
Grand Guardian—G. M. Sanders.
Grand Herald—Byron Rudy.
Grand Chaplain—S. X. Hall.
Grand Messenger—S. C. Cline.
The reports filed at the last annual session give statistics for the year ending December 31, 1889. These reports show there were 674 initiations that year, and 126 admitted by card, and 73 were re-initiated. There were 8,032 members in the State December 31, 1889, and the annual receipts amounted to $52,870.57.
Following are other interesting statistics for the period named:
Number of members relieved.....1,025
Number of widowed families relieved..... 318
Number of brothers buried..... 126
Number of orphans under charge of lodges... 264
Amount relief paid to brothers.....$ 21,146 23
Amount relief paid to widowed families..... 4,030 26
Amount paid for burying the dead..... 5,890 62
Amount paid for incidental charities..... 3,910 89
Amount paid for education of orphans..... 835 85
Total paid for charities.....$ 35,302 78
ASSETS.
Loans and investments.....$179,524 10
Value of regalia, jewels, &c..... 22,129 00
Cash on hand..... 27,279 23
Widows' and Orphans' fund..... 207,543 32
Value of property.....153,813 84
Income..... 9,464 71
Insurance.....125,330 38
Total.....$726,894 68
An excellent suggestion. The Sunday Morning Call says: "The Mayor should see to it that the pavements are kept free of salt barrels, dry goods boxes, and other obstructions this week during the meeting of the Grand Lodges I. O. O. F." And the pavements and the streets should be kept clean also.

MASON COUNTY HORSES.

Result of the Matinee Racing Saturday—Courier Gets a Record of 2:29—Ptolemy 2:54.

At the matinee races at the fair grounds Saturday, Ptolemy, a bay stallion sired by Happy Medium, dam by Mambrino Patchen, won the 3:00 minute trot, taking a record of 2:54. Ptolemy is owned by H. A. Calvert, of Tuckahoe Stock Farm, near Tuckahoe, this county, and is a promising, high-bred young stallion.
Courier, a bay stallion by John Burdine, started to beat his record of 2:30, and did so handsomely, by going in 2:29. He is owned by Dr. John A. Reed, of this city. This makes the third stallion now owned in Mason County with a record better than 2:30, the others being Alcandre 2:26½ and McAllister 2:27. So we are advancing each year with our horse interests, in speed as well as breeding.
Courier is a Mason County bred horse, having been bred by Dr. Reed, and we believe is the first Mason County bred horse to take 2:30 honors. His speed was developed at the Limestone Stock Farm.
OCTOBER'S gem is the opal. It is emblematic of hope. Ballenger, the jeweler, has a complete line of birthday rings. All the latest novelties in charms, rings and pins.
REV. J. R. HARRISON, of Virginia, will preach at the Baptist Church this afternoon at 3 o'clock and to-night at 7 o'clock. Also every afternoon and night this week at the hours named. The public cordially invited to hear him.
MR. W. G. DUNCAN, of McHenry, Ohio County, Grand Master of the Grand Lodge of Kentucky, I. O. O. F., arrived last evening. He is accompanied by his wife, and they are the guests of Past Grand Master William H. Cox and wife.
A convention is to be held at Louisville October 21st and 22nd for purpose of forming a State association of bankers and financial institutions. Delegates attending will be sold tickets by the C. and O. Railway Company at rate of one fare for the round trip.
RIGHT REV. BISHOP C. P. MAES, of Covington, confirmed twenty-three boys and twenty-two girls at St. Patrick's Church yesterday morning. He delivered a very lengthy and instructive discourse to the children, which was listened to very attentively by the large congregation present.
The Sinking Fund Commissioners have made the following changes in the penitentiary officials: M. A. Rooney, of Henderson, was appointed as Deputy Warden, vice Sam O. Num sent to Eddyville as Deputy; C. L. Curry, Deputy Warden at Eddyville, was made Warden; vice J. W. Marshall removed. Colonel Tom Corbett was made Clerk of the prison at Frankfort, vice W. H. Ellis removed.
The Enquirer compliments Mr. Sydnor Hall, an ex-Maysvillian, very highly on a paper read at the meeting of the Literary Club of Cincinnati Saturday evening. His subject was "The Railway Problem," and the Enquirer says: "In a masterly way he traced the wonderful growth of railroads in America from the year 1823; when railroad building began, to the present day. The chief topics treated were the 'Inter-State Commerce Law,' 'Government Control of Railroads,' and 'Consolidation of Railroads.'"

FIREMEN'S DEMANDS REFUSED.

The Railroad Officials Would Not Even Meet the Men Half Way and Now They Will Vote on the Question of Tying Up the Road by Striking—Other Labor News.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 12.—The demands of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen employed on the Lake Erie and Western road, for an increase of two-tenths of a cent per mile, and for mileage by the hundred, has been refused by General Manager Bradbury. The answer was made last Saturday to Frank P. Sargent, head of the brotherhood, who was found at the Bates house discussing the situation in company with a committee of three firemen. In response to a question Mr. Sargent said:

"The answer of Mr. Bradbury is not at all satisfactory to me. He makes no concession at all, and takes the ground that the road is now paying better wages than most other roads. He seems to put stress on his claim that the committee which came here to make the demand is acting without authority, and does not represent the wants of the firemen on his line. His answer will now be submitted to the brotherhood at the various points on the line, and the members will be called upon to vote as to whether they wish to push the demand further."

"If they do, and as our laws require two-thirds of the men to vote to push the demand for the increase, it will be done. When I receive the result of the vote I will call on Mr. Bradbury and make a demand for such an increase as we deem just and equitable. Failing to receive a favorable answer, the firemen will be given the privilege of quitting and receiving the support of the brotherhood."

"How long will it take to submit the matter to a vote?" was asked.

"About three or four days. If the statements of these three men of the committee to me are correct, the brotherhood will be united and will support the committee in making an issue with the company. Mr. Bradbury's answer was all the more unsatisfactory because I took upon myself to agree to accept an increase of one-tenth, instead of two-tenths, as was demanded. That is equivalent to meeting him half way. He declines to make any concession whatever."

Mr. Sargent went to Terre Haute Saturday night, and will await the result of the vote before returning. The committee returned to their homes in Lafayette, Peru and Lima.

MASSILLON MINERS.

The Referee Decides the Gate Question in Their Favor.

MASSILLON, O., Oct. 12.—The disagreement between the miners and operators in the Massillon district, respecting the use of gates or obstructions on the screens, was settled Saturday by a decision in favor of the miners, submitted by the referee, Rev. James Kuhn. The contention of the miners was that the gates broke under an undue quantity of coal as it passed over the screens, making nut and slack, for which they received no pay.

The operators claim that there was no such intention, and that the gates were for the purpose of breaking the momentum of the coal as it passed down the chute. Upon the basis of actual experiment, the referee states that the obstructions cause an increase in the amount of nut and slack equal to four and one-fifth cents per ton of lump coal, for which the miners get no pay, and he came to the conclusion that all gates at present in use in screening coal are detrimental to the interests of the miners and should be removed.

Railroad Coal Miners.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 12.—Unless the railroad coal miners' strike is settled within a week some exciting times are looked for in this section. Sixty of the largest operators have signed an agreement to hold out against the advance for three years if necessary. The operators say they will give the strikers another week to return to work. If they refuse, the tactics of the coke operators will be adopted and foreigners imported to start the mines. The miners do not appear to be frightened at the threats, and say they will stand out until the demands are granted.

A MONSTER SQUIRREL.

An Indiana Hunter Bags One Three Feet Nine Inches Long.

SEYMOUR, Oct. 12.—Mr. H. W. Godfrey, the well known marble dealer of this city, states that he was hunting near Tampico, this county, Saturday, and while watching for a treed squirrel saw an immense red or fox squirrel looping along the ground sixty yards away.

He had not time to draw his load of No. 8 shot and load with heavier, but fired away with the small shot, and to his delight, brought down his game. The monster was measured by three different persons, and its length from nose to tip of tail was three feet, nine inches. Nothing to equal it has ever been seen about here. Mr. Godfrey is having it mounted.

Butter and Egg Merchant Absconds.

COLUMBUS, Ind., Oct. 12.—Charles Barringer, a prominent and well known butter and egg shipper from this city, is missing. He was last seen on Thursday. His strange disappearance was unaccounted for until it was learned that a large number of creditors are anxiously inquiring for his whereabouts. Barringer had the confidence of many capitalists in this locality, with whom he had dealings for years, and who have trusted him for almost any amount.

Death of Dr. Johnson.

BALTIMORE, Oct. 12.—Dr. Christopher Johnson, father of H. Morris Johnson, the American, died suddenly here Saturday. He was well known in his profession and was a frequent contributor to scientific and medical literature. Dr. Johnson was sixty-two years old.

Railway News.

The earnings of the C. & O. for September were $801,939.30, an increase of $87,000 over corresponding period in 1890.

During the nine months ending September 30, there were 2,892 miles of main line built on 186 different roads. The total for 1891 will fall below 5,000 miles.

At Newport Friday P. J. Voltz filed suit against the Chesapeake & Ohio for $20,000 damages, alleged to have been sustained by the loss of one arm while in the employ of the road.

During the last 30 days there have been opened to traffic two very important Chesapeake & Ohio branch lines in Virginia, one from the mouth of Craig's Creek (Bessemer) to Craig City and New Castle, the other from Covington to Hot Springs.

A. F. Stewart has been appointed Master Mechanic of the Cincinnati and Huntington division of the Chesapeake and Ohio. Mr. Stewart has occupied the position for the past seventeen years of General Foreman of the Michigan Central shops, at Jackson, Mich. An engine was put together in the short space of two hours and fifty-eight minutes at the Michigan Central shops, at Jackson, all parts being on hand for the purpose, this being considered the fastest time on record. The work was done under the supervision of Mr. Stewart.

Nancy Hanks Out of Condition.

The Enquirer yesterday published a special from Terre Haute, which says: "There was a sensational rumor about town Saturday that Nancy Hanks was alarmingly ill and that she would very likely not be able to start in the great match race at Lexington, with the new king, Allerton."

"Upon investigation it was ascertained that the great mare is very much out of condition, and, while there is nothing really alarming in her condition, the bronchial trouble that has affected her for several days past as a result of the recent meeting may prove serious enough to prevent her from meeting Allerton."

"Nancy and McDoel, the two stars of the Bud Doble stable, were shipped to Lexington Saturday afternoon in a special car. For a time it seemed doubtful if Nancy could be taken along, but Doble finally decided to send her and to trust an improvement in her condition would occur. Dr. Hollenbeck, the surgeon, who is employed to constantly travel with Nancy, concurred in this decision."

"Nancy has been coughing and running at the nose ever since the first of the week, and her condition on Thursday was such that another physician from Chicago was called in. Mr. Doble left tonight for Lexington. Before taking the train he said he hoped Nancy's condition would be such that the race with Allerton could come off, but unless she was well, he would do her an injustice by putting her against Allerton."

Royal Incomes in England.

"The amount of the Queen's civil list (£233,000)," says Labouchere, editor of the London Truth, in the October Forum, "in no way represents the cost of royalty. The maintenance of palaces is a most costly item, for it includes not only the palaces inhabited by the sovereign, but a vast number of houses in which she lodges her relatives and friends. One of these houses has actually been given to the Duc de Nemours, a son of Louis Philippe, and one of the wealthiest of the Orleans family. Besides this, there is the building and keeping in repair of royal yachts, and various other such costly items. Incomes, too, are voted to the sons and daughters of the sovereign and to other of her relatives. In addition to the revenues of the Duchy of Cornwall, amounting to about £60,000 per annum, an income of £50,000 per annum has been voted to the Prince of Wales, and of £10,000 per annum to the Princess of Wales. The younger sons of the Queen have been voted incomes of £25,000 per annum, a portion of which devolves upon their wives if they survive them. The daughters of Her Majesty have each an income of £5,000 per annum, an addition to this the Empress Frederick, of Germany, received a sum of £100,000 on her marriage. The Duke of Cambridge, as a cousin of the Queen, has £12,000 per annum, and his two sisters have severally an income of £5,000 and £3,000 per annum."
